Petersburg, Va., August 31.

Every members of the two branches of the City council participated in the caucus held last night called to nominate chairmen of the joint standing committees. After voting to pledge every member to abide by the action of the caucus, some decided charges were made as regards the old system of committees.

These charges were made in response to recommendations reported by the Rules and Regulations Committee through Councilman R. B. Willeox. The recommendations caused considerable discussion and some opposition, but they were adopted by a decisive vote. They involved the combination of some of the committees, the abolishing of others, the reduction of the number of standing committees and the reduction of the membership of every committee except that on rinance, which was allowed to have twelve members.

The membership of the other committees, which formerly averaged seven to nine, was reduced to five—three from the Council and two from the Aldermen. It was argues that large committees were usually unwieldly and that business was frequently delayed by failure to secure a quorum.

Councilman William R. McKenney Vigorously opposed the consideration.

The committees abolished as unnecessary were the Fire and Police Committees, these departments being now under the control of boards of commissioners. Those consolidated were the Waterworks and Sewers Committees, the three on Ordinances, Officers' Bonds and Courts of Justice, the two on Public Parks and Markets, A joint meeting of the two branches will be held to-morrow afternoon to approve the action of the Council, and afterwards there will be a separate meeting of each branch to perfect its own permanent organization and appoint members of the various committees.

People from most all sections of the county and lots of Gaston people were here on account of the Farmers' Institute, and where was a marked interest taken in all the proceedings and speeches by the good farmers of the county, and good order prevailed among all.

The Agricultural Department of the State is doing a great and grand work for the agricultural interests of the country. The farmers held their meeting in the grove behind Mt. L. T. Smith's residence, where a speaker's platform had been arranged. The ladies' meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church, and was attended by a large number of ladies from different sections. This meeting was presided over by Miss Graham, of the Agricultural Department, and many helping hints were given the ladies in their cooking and other domestic affairs.

There being a prize for the best loaf of bread, considerable interest was taken in this by the ladies, and the prize was won by Mrs. R. C. Goode. She attributes her success to the use of the famous Pride of Richmond flour, made by the Koiner Flour Mills, of Richmond, Va. Miss Carrie Graham won the prize on beaten biscuits.

Alderman Join W. Moore, of Washington Ward, was inclined yesterday to laugh at the report that he is not a resident of the ward he represents in the City Council, and therefore not eligible to hold the position to which was elected after annexation.
The report stated that he lived just outside the corporate limits of Washington Ward, but he said yesterday that he has long maintained his home on Cowardin Avenue, and yesterday let out a contract for the erection of a new residence on Porter Street. In view of Mr. Moore's statement, it would seem that all doubt as to his eligibility is cleared away. He is living outside the corporation limits now only temporarily. His permanent residence has always been in the city.

Refused to Testify.

Ethel Kite, the fourteen-year-old Harrisonburg girl, who, with several others, escaped from the Virginia Home and Industrial School for Girls, at Bon Air, refused yesterday to testify against Charles Rennie, who was charged with having attempted criminal assault. Though adjured both by the court and Secretary Buchanan, of the Associated Charlites, she declined to say a word against the young man, and, on the ground that her testimony might incriminate herself, she could not be forced to give testimony. There was no one else who could give information as to the alleged attack, and only a fine of $25 and costs was assessed against Rennie.
